Announcing the Detroit Testing Room Managed by CCS America

Enhancing Support for Customers in the United States by Expanding to 14 Locations Worldwide

Kyoto, Japan - CCS Inc. (Head Office: Kamigyo-ku, Kyoto, Japan; Hiroyuki Onishi, President), a leading manufacturer of LED Light Units for machine vision applications, will open and manage* a Testing Room in Detroit, Michigan, on Friday, July 27, 2018, with the goal of further enhancing support for customers in the United States.

This will expand the business structure of CCS in its international machine vision (inspection lighting) business to 14 locations.

Detroit, Michigan, is the center of automobile manufacturing in the United States and home to numerous assembly plants for automobile manufacturers, system integrators of automatic inspection equipment, and manufacturers of production equipment for automobiles.

CCS has been supporting customers in the United States through the Regional Headquarters of CCS America in Boston, Massachusetts, and Testing Rooms in San Jose, California, and El Paso, Texas. Now, strong customer demand has led CCS to open the Detroit Testing Room with one on-site employee.

CCS Testing Rooms feature LED Light Units and Control Units for machine vision, as well as many peripheral devices for imaging, such as cameras and lenses, used to build an inspection environment.

CCS can propose an optimal inspection environment for customers through experimentation that combines a variety of machine vision equipment and over 20 years of accumulated knowledge and techniques.

CCS will continue working to establish itself as a vendor of essential solutions for manufacturing companies worldwide by accelerating the pace of testing room openings and helping customers to see like never before.

* The Detroit Testing Room is managed by CCS America, Inc., the US subsidiary of CCS Inc.
